

Dear Friends in Christ,
 Psalm 8 talks about the worship and praise of our Lord for all that He has done for us. We must give Him our attention. How can we not look outward towards the sky and not be amazed by what we see? His heavens are so beautiful. Within the sky, we see God's creativity. He made all of this with just the very words from His mouth. Our God did this, and He can also do much more against our enemy Satan. With His very lips, He can tell Satan to get behind Him, and with His Spirit, in our lives, we too can do the very same thing.

I challenge you to look into the heavens and see the beauty of God's handiwork. He created the sun, moon, and stars put them all into their place. Let us remember that if God can do all this, what else can He do in our lives? Does He not also watch over us as He does all of His creation? We have been created just a little lower than God. As His creation, He will take care of us and provide for our needs.

During these days of COVID, I still believe God is in control. I believe that He will bring something good out of all of this mess. The point I want to make is we must keep our eyes focused on Him. He still needs our praise and worship. If we are at home worshipping or in the church, He deserves all of our attention. On a day in which we are battling sickness, we cry out to Him often for healing. At some point in our time, I suggest instead of asking God for something, let us give Him praise. Not asking, but just praising. "Lord, our Lord, how magnificent is Your name throughout the earth!" To God be the glory!

Sincerely in Christ,
Bro. Jay Hatfield
